“ Dear Charles,
We will miss your wonderful smile and laughter. We had such good times with you and sweet Anita. We were always glad to hear you say " I've been thinking " and you would have a solution to a problem or a way to help us out. So many times over the years you were there for us. Thank you for being a wonderful friend.
We love you

“ Charles, we have so many memories of you when our family had a farm on Blanket Creek. Your farm always looked so beautiful and groomed. When we came to our farm, we would always see you in your fields mowing or taking care of your cows. Anytime we city slickers needed help or advice, you were our go-to man. You were one in a million, Charles, and you made the world a better place just by being in it.

You will be missed,

“ Charles,
Thank you for showing this city girl just how beautiful country life could be. You loved your world and you shared it with everyone you met. My life was truly blessed the day Richard and I came down Blanket Creek for the first time and we met. You will be deeply missed but you are deeply loved and will have a place in my heart forever.

Rest in peace my dear friend.

“ Charles Ernest,

Thanks for teaching a “northern city guy” how to operate a tractor safely and the “in and outs of bush hogging. More importantly thanks for being a friend. Don’t think I will have the opportunity to ever meet a more industrious, intelligent, and honest man. Will miss our visits and political discussions and your smile.

Lastly thanks for looking out for my wife during my travels.

Rest In Peace my friend,

Richard
