“ To the family of Ella Frances Curtis:

I have never sent an online condolence. However, I am unable to attend the funeral and I didn't know where to send a card. I wanted to extend my sympathy in the loss of Frannie.

My name is Helen Bailey. I started working at St. Luke Hospital in 1977 and Frannie had a significant influence on me. She trained me as a nurse's aide. I worked side by side with her and watched the excellent care that she gave her patients. She made me strive for the excellence in care that she delivered. Her years of experience taught me many tricks of the trade. She was always professional in her crisp white uniform with her newly polished white shoes. She was quiet, calm, and had such a compassionate way with patients. She was such a hard worker. She never sat down until all of the work was completed. And she was the first to jump up when someone needed something.

I went on to graduate from nursing school and continued to work with Frannie. She was always such a pleasure, and I loved her laugh. Her kindness was contagious, and she was always very courteous. Please know that she had a significant influence on my life as a nurse. It is now 32 years later, and I am still nursing. When I cleaned my thermometer this morning, I fondly thought of Frannie. She taught me how to clean them!

With sincere sympathy,

Helen (Speier) Bailey

“ My condolences to the family. Frannie was the best nurse aide that I had. When she would come to me and tell me, "Miss Becker, you need to see a patient". I knew that I should stop what I'm doing and go to that patient. She was always right. Frannie was an excellent employee as well as a wonderful person. May God grant her eternal rest.
