“ I first met Ruby when I moved to Hickory Grove Road in 1984 as an 11 year old boy. Our first encounter was when I crashed my bicycle on the road in front of her house. She came to my aid and cleaned up my wounds.

Soon after meeting Ruby I began working for Roy. Ruby would have mine and Roy's supper ready every night when we came in from milking, and I'd also eat dinner with them every day during the summer. Once they tricked me into eating cow brains, but I liked them. Her pies were my favorite though, and we still have her handwritten recipes. I think she especially enjoyed feeding me because I'd chastise anyone at her table that wasn't polite to her while they were being served.

Ruby was one of if not the hardest working woman I've ever known. In addition to cooking for a small army, she fed many calves in the calf barn, gardened, canned, grocery shopped, cleaned house, pulled tobacco plants, stripped tobacco, and sometimes worked with us in the fields. I'm certain she did it all at some point or another, and I never heard her voice a single complaint. She also tended to many other animals including that mean old, hat snatching raccoon.

Ruby was the first woman hunter I knew, and she was even a bow hunter. I remember walking home from the deer hunting woods and meeting up with Ruby as she came out of her hunting spot with her bow. We walked home together as the last bit of light faded into complete darkness, and we talked about her bow and deer hunting.

Most of all Ruby loved the Lord. I attended church with her on occasion, but I was never pressured. She let me know that I had an open invitation. In retrospect, I wish I'd have went with her every Sunday. The way Ruby graciously served others, I'm completely confident that she had many treasures awaiting her upon her arrival in Heaven.

Thank you for all of your kindness, and for all of the times you selflessly served me Ruby. Enjoy all of your Heavenly rewards!

“ My condolences to you all, Sherman, Tim and Gary and families. So sorry I cannot be with you today. Your Mom, Aunt Nellie to me, was a special buddy to me as a child. She was a sweet, kind person. Blessings to you and yours.

“ So sorry for your loss. I remember the times that we played soft ball and croquet when we all lived on New Hope Road. Good memories. Ruby Nell was a kind and gentle soul. Vida Jaehnen
