“ Thelma Lou, Zerina and Margo (my Mother) were three young working girls who formed a bond for life. My Sister and I called her Aunt Lou. She was at our house in Cincinnati for every birthday and holiday during our formative years. Mom went crazy when Aunt Lou brought her famous friends to the house for dinner. She and Dad shared June 14th (Flag Day) birthdays and told us that we were flying the American Flag in their honor! She bought us matching nightgowns on Christmas Eve so we looked adorable when Dad took our pictures on Christmas Morning. Oh, the wonderful gifts! We laughed and laughed at silly things! We had sleep overs at her swanky apartment! She thought we had to have go-go boots, Beatle wigs and records. On my 12th birthday, she took me downtown Cincy for dinner and then we saw Goldfinger , I felt so grown-up! She shared her Vogue magazines, shoes and purses. We were in Heaven. There were many Summer vacations in Falmouth when she and Mom drove us to the Wright family farm. We chased the peacocks, rode the horses with Uncle Larry and filled our bellies with those wonderful country meals seated out on the porch when the men came in from their farm chores. Those were special times. Dad stayed home to let us girls have fun and spread our wings. As we grew into our own lives we visited when she returned from Paris with stories and hugged us so hard! When my husband and I had a near fatal car accident she came to stay with Mom and Dad in Florida. I'll never forget seeing her come through the door. She was my hero and I will always hold her in my heart. I am so sorry to hear about her passing. I hope that the love of family and friends will comfort and strengthen you in the days ahead.

“ Thelma came into my life almost by accident. My brother, Sean, introduced us and she welcomed me into her home as she did so many others. Sean and I slept on her pull-out couch in Paris (February 1991) and encouraged us to use her apartment as base-camp for exploring the city. Over the years she also hosted my parents in Paris and then my mom & I in Martha's Vineyard. A few years later she welcomed my husband and I and then later still, she had us back - this time with three little boys! Thelma embodied such beautiful qualities - she was generous and gracious, welcoming and optimistic. She will remain in my heart as the ultimate host. Thelma truly seemed to be in her element when she had a dining table laden with delicious food and copious wine bottles filled with people from all walks of life. Diversity of life and diversity of ideas seemed to delight her and she made everyone feel so special. Andy and I will always remember Thelma with gratitude and love. And I will continue to aspire to be the effortless chef and penultimate host that was Thelma. I am so sorry for your loss.
