“ I have so many good memories of Aunt Fran. I remember her visiting us in Alaska - and she was there with me on 9/11. Going black Friday shopping with her, my grandma Lea, and my mom in Texas. We all got matching white leather jackets at one of the shops. She made baby blankets for my daughter, Cassandra. When Cassie was older, She made her Raggedy Ann & Andy dolls. Jack sleeps with the states quilt that she made. I remember her trying to teach me to make lace. In 2006, I was on vacation in FL and I stayed with her. We visited baby Cierra in the hospital together. And on that trip, we went to pool party that her brother Rob & Ruth were at and watched the shuttle launch in the sky. She was there with us as her sister/ my grandma Lea took her final breath. I would call and talk to her often. I went to the graves in Jellico many times with her. I am thankful that she was there to remind me where all of the family graves were to decorate. She was able to spend time with my youngest baby several times over the last year when I would visit FL. I love and miss you Aunt Fran - Julie
