George Ross Latimer

July 6, 1928 - February 16, 2010

George Ross Latimer, 81, of Falmouth, passed away on Tuesday, February

16, 2010, at his home. Born in Harrison County, Kentucky on July 6, 1928, he was a son of the late James Shirley and Kate Knox Latimer. He was raised by his aunt and uncle, Ruth and Forrest Dunn.

On January 23, 1954, he married Marcella Ramsey, and his dear wife survives his passing. For 30 years he worked in the paint department at General Motors, and he was a well-known Pendleton County farmer. He was a member of the Plum Creek Christian Church, Campbell County, a member of the Aspen Grove Lodge #397 F & A M in Alexandria, Kentucky, a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II, and a U.S. Army veteran of the Korean Conflict.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by two brothers: James Harvey Latimer and Albert Latimer, and two sisters: Annie Risselman and Lucille Latimer.

In addition to his wife of 56 years, Marcella Latimer, he is survived by two daughters: Joan Latimer- Murphy (Kelse) of DeMossville, Kentucky and Pam Latimer of Butler, Kentucky; one sister, Katherine Garrison of California, Kentucky; and a host of extended family and friends.

“ It is with sadness that I read that George had passed. I worked with him at General Motors in the late 70's and early 80's. He was a great guy and I enjoyed his company tremendously. I was a new supervisor at the time and he had been a supervisor. He gave me lots of advice and encouragement. I remember that he had a daughter that worked at the First National Bank in Crescent Springs and I met her once. He had an extended stint on the grand jury one summer that drove him crazy and I recall him being in an auto accident on the way home from work on I-71. He talked about his family often and was looking forward to retirement when I last saw him many years ago. I am happy that he got to have many years retired and hope that he enjoyed them. God Bless.
