

Helen McCarty Hancock Booher

December 7, 1917 - September 13, 2012

Booher, Helen McCarty Hancock, 94 of Lexington, wife of the late George William Booher of Falmouth, KY, passed away peacefully on Thursday, Sept 13, 2012, at St Joseph Hospital after a sudden stroke. Born in Lenoxburg, Bracken County, KY, she was the daughter of the late Eugene Bateman Hancock and the late Lexie Maltby McCarty Hancock; granddaughter of the late Charles Nicholas McCarty and the late Effie Yelton McCarty of Bracken County.

A graduate of Falmouth High School, Helen completed a BS degree at Cincinnati Bible Seminary and a BS degree in primary education from Wilmington College, Ohio. She actively participated in community organizations including the Daughters of the American Revolution where she was a 50 year member and, most recently, served as Chaplain of DAR Lexington Chapter. She is a faithful member of Southland Christian Church where she enjoyed the friendship of her Christians-Out-Doing Class with whom she remained active to her final days.

She is preceded in death by her brother John Hancock of Alexandria, and her sister Genevieve Hancock Shonert of Falmouth.

She is survived by a son and daughter, two grandsons, seven great-granddaughters and many nieces and nephews.

Visitation to begin at 5:00 PM with funeral celebration at 6:30 PM on Monday, September 17, 2012, at Southland Christian Church Chapel, 5001 Harrodsburg Road, Lexington, KY 40356. Graveside service will be held 11:00 AM the following morning at Riverside Cemetery, Falmouth, Pendleton County, KY. Memorials are suggested to Hospice of the Bluegrass.

Arrangements by Woodhead Funeral Home, Falmouth, KY.
