“ The suffering people in the Diocese of Covington have lost a great friend. And her fellow Vincentians are feeling the loss as well. Jackie was one of my favorite people at SVdP, even though over many years I only met her in person twice. She was SO kind to the people that called in, that when I made the follow-up call, everyone was already much more calm and reassured because they had spoken to Jackie first. It was also impossible for her to be rattled or impatient or negative. Over dozens and dozens of my emails to her, it never happened. Not even once. And amidst a very demanding job, she maintained a sense of humor. She and I had several inside jokes about Covington's building addresses that I'm sure only we thought were funny. Jackie was completely kind, completely caring, and completely patient. I would add completely inspiring. She inspired the people she served and she inspired her fellow Vincentians, all completely different people who nevertheless came to realize, and some of us can say the words out loud, that our lives were made better because Jackie Kyle came our way. -Tom Anstead, Vincentian, Jackie's friend.
