“ Larna and I became good telephone friends over the past few years. I work for one of her physicians and she would call when she needed to speak with him, but we became good friends. We probably talked a few times every week, sometimes a few times in one day, even more when she became more home-bound. She would call to let me know when she had a visitor, or when she went visiting, and she loved seeing the children across the street from her and making chocolate milk for them. We both had a love for baking and she loved nothing more than baking something for others. I will miss her phone calls, but know that she is at peace and with her Lord.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Larna at Mt. Auburn Homemakers and she rode with me to several meetings and had been doing her hair for couple of years so I got to know her and loved her. I cut her hair about a week ago and was so glad to get to visit with her. I will miss her.
